

Expectations and Limits

There are many situations where expectations and limits are necessary. Take a moment to consider and take notes on the following topics and questions.

Curfew (The time your teen can stay out until at night):

What limits will you have in your home?

What expectations do you have of your teen?

How will you communicate your expectations?

Knowing where your teen is:

What limits will you have in your home?

What expectations do you have of your teen?

How will you communicate your expectations?
